Educational materials and a celebratory process to inspire high school-aged youth to deepen their knowledge and understanding of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR). The educational materials incorporate the creative arts as an integral part of the teaching process.

- WHEN & WHERE
- Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday: August 5-August 7, 2014, 9:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m.
  - University of San Francisco School of Education
  - 2350 Turk Boulevard, San Francisco, CA 94118, Room 102

WHY: With successful work in Bay Area high schools, we present unique curriculum, consistent with Common Core standards, that excites students about learning, being engaged in actions and behaviors that further positive interactions with their peers, teachers and extended communities, and taking action to promote equity, justice and human dignity for all people.

- Teachers focused on academic subjects, including social studies, history and language arts will experience how to integrate creative arts elements – spoken word, visual arts, dance/movement, performing arts, digital arts, and music – into their teaching of the UDHR to help students grasp and apply otherwise abstract concepts, and enthusiastically utilize critical thinking, creative expression and writing skills.
- Leaders working with youth to address social justice issues will acquire UDHR content and curriculum that can enhance their programs.

- CONTINUING EDUCATION HOURS:
- 21 hours of Continuing Education Credit or 2 CEUs are provided by the University of San Francisco for a cost of $100. There is no charge to attend if not seeking CEUs.
